

STARLING FILM AND RECORDS

THE PRODUCTION COMPANY

Starling Film & Records is a company that specializes in distributing quality music accompanied by stunning visuals through our network of world-class connections in filmmaking, music production, social media marketing, internet streaming, radio charting, and licensing for television, web series, feature films and independent films. SFR is located in Ashland, Oregon which was voted as the #1 best small town in America to be a filmmaker in 2015. We recognize the importance of combining filmmaking and music production to create a complete and accessible marketing package for musicians and filmmakers alike. The goal is to create a symbiotic relationship between the music industry and the film industry which the company is starting by the launch of the band Saint Sebastian and, in the future, an album for musician and producer, Bret Levick.

GREG GOEBELT

Owner | Project Coordinator

MEGHAN MCNULTY

Marketing Director | Manager

Meghan began a career in real estate as Greg's assistant two years ago and now she is studying for an Oregon real estate license. Her skills in marketing, writing, communication, organization and web design offer the company a fresh and professional look.

ELI TURNER

Student Intern

Eli is currently a student at Southern Oregon University with a major in Film and a minor in Digital Art. In 2011 and 2012, Eli submitted a two short films to the Ashland Independent Film Festival which both went on to win awards. Eli will be aiding the company in the Kickstarter campaign, graphic design, and social media management.

